Editorial

Gunpowder, Treason and Plot!

Well, 2023 is really on the home straight now and from the various Facebook posts of some of my overexcitable friends Christmas is basically here, so cheer or tut depending on your preference.

Anyway, October has done one and what a beauty it was with Yeo!Cider being an absolute highlight for the village. Smashing all previous cider fest records, we had over 200 people from near and far turn up to indulge in a lot of appley and perry fayre and a cracking day out they all seemed to have too. More on that later in the issue.

Not a lot happening this month as we trundle towards the festive season, although the Duck have announced some Tuesday openings for various themed nights starting on the 7th with a Tapas Night, so get your tables booked, I suspect they may be popular!

As the Council haven't sent out the bin schedule again, I've slapped it on the back here for you to cut out. Just remember if anything goes awry to check on the handy MDDC online tool which tells you exactly when and what goes out.

And that's it for this month, thank you to the kind people who got in touch to help distribute the YVV around Neopardy. Without our team of volunteers, this publication simply wouldn't happen.

Cheers...

CREDITON HAMLETS PARISH COUNCIL

At the October Parish Council meeting Councillors and members of the public discussed the very slow progress in the rollout of Airband infrastructure in the Parish. Concern was expressed that the project may not meet its deadline and about whether the funding from Connecting Devon and Somerset would continue to be available if the deadline is missed. Councillors asked the Clerk to arrange a Zoom meeting with Airband to seek an update and reassurances.

Councillors voted to provide the first prize of a £50 voucher to spend at The Duck for the best Christmas lights in and near Yeoford. The judging date will be publicised nearer to Christmas. The new grit bin for Yeoford has been delivered and will be put in place shortly.

The next full Council meeting will be on Monday 6th November at the Boniface Centre, Crediton. If you would like to read the full minutes of the October Parish Council meeting, they are on the PC website. Please contact one of your councillors or Rachel Hodder, the Parish Clerk (clerk@creditonhamlets.org.uk or 01363 85523), if there is something you would like to have discussed at the next Council meeting.

Members of public are very welcome to attend any meeting and speak during the public session.

Meeting details and contact information for Councillors are on the Parish Council website (www.creditonhamlets.org.uk)

County Councillor Newsletter—October

September has been a busy month which you may well have seen with the various television articles on the local news. Council passed a motion to support parish and town councils who wanted 20 mph speed limits. There were however certain conditions! The requesting council has to finance the enforcement and signage for the 20 mph speed limit. I would suggest that this is not suitable for parishes but possibly for our towns.

The status of care experience young people has been accepted as a protected characteristic by Devon County Council. This means that those people who leave care and branch out into adult life will receive extra support from the county in areas of accommodation, education and health. It is proposed that they pay no council tax until the age of 25. At the meeting where this was decided several young care experience young people spoke and welcomed the decision warmly.

The problem of RAAC has been aired quite fully but just to put people in the picture the condition was first noticed in 2018 and DCC undertook inspections of all its maintained schools (161 primary and 4 secondary) in 2022 and 2023. The good news is that after a rigorous inspection following Department for Education guidelines no RAAC was found in council maintained schools. Some trust and academy schools did however find this condition and the county council has offered help.

Those of you who travel to and from Exeter will perhaps have noticed that the famous Iron Bridge now has large concrete blocks on the corner of the pavements! The Bridge is almost 200 years old and sometime ago it was made one-way in order to lower the weight of passing vehicles. A weight restriction of 3 tonnes (a metric measurement) was imposed and it was noticed that some heavier lorries were bumping over the kerb in order to access the shortcut. This will now not be possible as it is only wide enough for cars. The bridge is inspected annually because it is a historic access and must be protected.

The question of the mobile library service has appeared often on TV and it will be discussed at the senior scrutiny committee on Thursday, 28th September. I have to point out that the scrutiny committee can only make recommendations to the Cabinet and it is this body that will make its final decision. This decision will be binding!

As the Chairman of Mid Devon District Council I was privileged to be invited to a meeting of CHAT (Christian Housing Action Team) which was attended by the Duchess of Edinburgh. For me the highlights of the meeting were talking to a group of young carers. These are school-age youngsters who care for parents or siblings. One of them told me at the age of 14 she regularly has to inject her type 1 diabetic brother with insulin because he is only 12 and needs help! This is some responsibility. There are coordinating adults so if you know of any children in your area who are carers please let me know and I will put them into contact with the relevant group. At the same meeting I also came across "Balloons", which is a group formed 15 years ago to help children cope with bereavement. Again if you know any youngsters who recently lost someone close to them please let me know and I will put them in contact with this wonderful organisation.

PLEASE READ: AIR AMBULANCE

An appeal to all our villagers

If you, your children or anyone you know plays in the recreation ground please always check with them that they have returned the goals to the edge of the field.

This is because the Air Ambulance CANNOT LAND if the goals are in the middle of the field.

If you pass the recreation ground or see anybody playing with the goals in the centre, could you please remind them (politely) that they should be returned to the edge after use, or move them back if you find them abandoned like this.

Thank you all for your cooperation.

YEO!CIDER 2023

After last year's record-breaking turnout, albeit with a rail strike, we had an inkling that this year would be even more popular and we weren't wrong! With the first punters turning up just after 11am, over 200 people attended our 12th annual cider festival and drank us (almost) dry of our wonderful selection of ciders and perries!

The first cider to go, Thistly Cross—Scottish Fruits, voted the festival Champion, went before 2pm and our only ale, Piston Beer from the Beer Engine, didn't last that much longer!

The atmosphere was wonderful aided and abetted by live music provided by the talented Rob Murch and Busker Bernie, and the Longdogs. Meanwhile, the kitchen was doing a roaring trade, with pulled pork baps and Dee's delicious scotch eggs and sausage rolls flying out.

The day elongated into the evening before we finally packed up around 9pm. From initial estimates it looks like a record-breaking year, with over £1,800 made towards the running of the hall, keeping hire costs down for our local user groups, a stupendous amount for a highly enjoyable day.

The organisers thank the generosity of our sponsors: Fargo Systems; Howdens; Crediton Milling Company; South West Galvanisers; Devon Tree Services; RPS Property Services; Pool N Spa Services; Helmores; The Duck at Yeoford; A W Plumbing; The White Hart, North Tawton; Troney Valley Escapes; Tom Cobley Tavern, Spreyton; Niki's Eternal 21st; Southon & Co; Beer Engine; SimpkinsEdwards, the amazing volunteers who gave up their time to support us, and all of those customers who came and enjoyed a phenomenal festival.

Until next time!

Parish Walk October 23

It's a steep climb out of Binneford towards Woodhead, the sun breaks through and illuminates a patch of bracken in the woods, insects shimmer and spiders' silk reaches between the trees a roll of high pitched birdsong washes over the woods.

At last I reach the top of hill and it's the sky that dominates now, acres and acres of it. Lately large groups of housemartins have been feeding high in the sky and gathering on the phone lines but now they have gone and a little of me wished I'd gone with them.

Here the hedges are still uncut and full of seed and brimful of berries The hawthorn and the rosehip intertwined with toxic bittersweet and honeysuckle. Soon these will be swept away by the hedgecutter.

At the crossroads there is a beech where the wild bees live, busy today with workers on the wing. Even in the depths of winter when all is still you can put your ear to the trunk and hear humming.

I cross over and pass an old farmyard overgrown with elder and willow with baby oaks seeded in the verge. These seedlings will be fed by its parent through the fungi filaments between them in the soil. Now ferns dot the banks, the air is cool and fresh and the gentle rain drums gently on the leaves. Robins tick tick tick hidden in the trees signalling their territory. I guess with the fledglings all grown up there is a jostling for space.

I turn up the track in the trees towards Woodhead and here is a field of blue flowers, chicory? For what or why I'm not sure but a great late nectar crop for insects.

In the hedges new standard oaks in the hedgerow are being allowed to grow up for future generations of people and wildlife.

At the junction of Woodhead and Rock is a very ancient oak tucked in a field corner next to a barn. It must be between 4 and 5 hundred years old. It is on his final phase hollow with its crown greatly reduced. I found only one acorn on the roads but I will plant it when I home.

I meant to get further on this walk but there was so much to enjoy. Next time I promise I will make it to Yeoford.
